

My father has for years raised with every possible person the inequities of the introduction of delivery shares. He has consulted and been ignored on more occasions than I care to list. Accc, esc, tariff review, politicians both state and federal and GMW management. Please accept the letters attached as his, mine and my mother's submission.

My father passed away in April 2018, unable to sell his farm with delivery share. Everything he predicted and feared has materialised. My 78 year old mother still owns the property and 5 Shepparton delivery shares.

The solution he proposed is instead of using the multiplier of 270 for the annual delivery allowance based of 270 days in an irrigation season, use instead 100, that is 100 days to deliver water right. The 100 multiplier for the annual delivery allowance makes the delivery share valuable and tradable. Next allow termination at the annual cost of delivery share and as customers trade out to sell, new customers by in at the same cost. Now it is flexible to meet changing farming needs. Flexible and tradable makes it valuable. Now customers will want it and it will not be considered a liability to the property
